Beneath The Lens Photography

There is a photographic competition just for Sir P.T.Sarvajanik College of Science, Surat Students.

By taking photos to show biodiversity, there are no categories.

We encourage our students to look around the city and take photos of showing biodiversity.

We would like to create greater awareness of just what is in our local environment.

Grab your phone or camera and show us what the natural environment means to you! Check out the fine print below.
